

AHA! FESTIVAL

'I seek the question, to which the human life is the answer.'
(from Mästaren Ma by Willy Kyrklund)

The AHA! Photo Contest

The AHA festival is a venue for artistic and scientific perspectives, intended to provide enlightening experiences, staging surprises, new thoughts and displaced perspectives that lead to alternative modes of thinking about a space where both art and science is present. The backbone of the festival is our notion of science and art as equal and elementary human activities. Driven by curiosity, an elemental force in the evolution of mankind and society, we as a specie cannot live without exploring and expressing ourselves, continuously trying to understand and to share knowledge - How can this be captured in a picture?

We invite you to send in pictures and participate in the AHA! Photo Contest.

The contest is open from September 15 - October 15, 2016. A jury will select the most interesting (based on creativity, subject & relevance) among the received pictures, and they will be exhibited during the AHA!-festival in a voting process.

Prize: Winners will be announced at the closing seminar (November 2, 2016).

Prizes are a gift cards at Scandinavian Photo: 1st - 5,000sek, 2nd - 3,000sek, 3rd - 1,000 sek.

Send your contesting pictures (maximum 3 pictures) digitally. All files must be 20mb or smaller, in jpeg format, and minimum 300 dpi. Please include your name and contact information, and send to contest@ahafestivalen.se

Deadline: 15 October, 2016

If selected by the jury, your picture(s) will be printed and exhibited anonymously with other selections, for a voting process by visitors to festival during October 31-November 2.

Terms and Conditions

By sending a contribution to this contest, you agree to the terms of the contest and confirm that you have accepted the terms of the photo contest stated below:

- When participating, you confirm that you have the copyright/ownership of the submitted picture(s). If there is any identifiable individuals in the pictures, the photographer ensures that these individuals have given their consent to participate in this contest to publication of the picture in question and that Chalmers University of Technology can use the picture of these individuals in marketing of the AHA! festival.

- When participating in the photo contest the participant transfers the right to Chalmers University of Technology to publish the submitted picture(s), regardless of type and media, without compensation. Chalmers University of Technology have the right to, without prior notification, exclude pictures that are found inappropriate, fraudulent or illegal in anyway.

- When participating in the photo contest the participant agrees to that Chalmers University of Technology process personal data on the participant to be able to administrate the contest and in connection with the result of the contest communicate the winning photo and photographer's name.

- Winners are themselves responsible for any tax & other mandatory fees in accordance with the law. Value of the all prizes are before tax.

CHALMERS

OCTOBER 31, NOVEMBER 1-2 | 2016

CHALMERS UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY

AHAFESTIVAL.SE